Funeral Rites Held Friday For John Hartmann

Funeral services for John J. Hartmann, president of the Gardeners and Farmers Market, which operates the Haymarket in the First and Second Street area in Louisville, were held at 2 p.m. last Friday in Neurath's Funeral Home. Interment was in Cave Hill Cemetery.

Hartmann, 81, died at 5:30 a.m. Wednesday morning. An obituary notice said he had been a patient 10 days. He had been active until he was stricken ill about two months ago. He lived at 2417 Hawthorne Avenue.

A native of Jefferson County, Hartmann operated a truck farm in the Bardstown Road and Goldsmith Lane section until 1950. He had been associated with the Haymarket 40 years and served as its president for 10 years. He was also present of the American Mutual Fire Insurance Company until he retired from that position three years ago.

He was one of the organizers of the old Evangelical Hospital Association, now the Methodist Evangelical Hospital, and was on its board of directors many years. Hartmann was a life-time member of the Protestant Episcopal Home Board and one of the founders of the Jefferson County Farm Bureau. He was a member of St. Paul's Evangelical Church.

Surviving are his wife, Mrs. Cathleen Hartmann, a daughter, Miss Cathleen Hartmann, two sons, Raymond F. Hartmann and Millard C. Hartmann; two sisters, Mrs. Lena Roemer of Mrs. Emma Hartmann; five grandchildren and great-grandchildren and a daughter-in-law, Mrs. Theodore R. Hartmann.

Funerals were John Wilhelmi, George Hartman, Jr., John H. Hartmann, Edward Hartmann, Ewin Hartmann and Christ Roemer.

Optimistically Speaking

BY J. F. KNOOP, JR.

It has been many references to the Optimist Creed without telling you what it is. This week I would like to present this tenet that you may know more of the Optimist and Optimistic Creed.

The Optimist Creed
Promise Yourself

To be so strong that nothing can disturb your peace of mind.

To talk health, happiness and prosperity to every person you meet.

To make all your friends feel that there is something in the

To look at the sunny side of everything and make your optimism come true.

To think of the best, to work for the best and to expect only the best.

To be just as enthusiastic about the success of others as you are about your own.

To forget about the mistakes of the past and press on to the greater achievements of the future.

To wear a cheerful countenance at all times and give every living creature a smile.

To give so much time to the improvement of yourself that you have no time to criticize others.

To be too large for worry, too noble for care, too strong for fear, and too happy to permit the presence of trouble.

This creed, by Christian D. Larson, should give you some ideas as to how the Optimist feels about himself and his feeling toward others.

NEXT WEEK — The start of Optimism.

Buechel Woman's Club

Mrs. Lyle St. John, chairman of the Buechel Woman's Club, will be the speaker at the 1 p.m. Monday, September 29, meeting of the club, the home of Mrs. H. R. Sims, Worthington. Mrs. St. John will review "Please Don't Eat the Dailey's" by Jean Kent.

Mrs. E. L. Badgett, chairman of the International Relations Group, will speak on "The Challenge of Communism" in her home, 1913 Spring Drive, at 1 p.m. Thursday, October 2.

COUNTRY MUSIC

Teen-agers of the Jeffersonian are to have a country music fashion show and country music beginning at 8 p.m. Saturday at the Community Center. The music is to be provided by Homer Brown and the Galt Valley Boys, who will be playing during the show. There will be no admission charge.

5 Are Seeking Seats On County School Board

A total of five candidates had been entered in races for two seats on the Jefferson County Board of Education, when the deadline for filing passed last Friday.

Of the quintet, four are seeking election to represent District No. 5 which covers the Dixie Highway area. They are Arlis Cook, Valley Station, the independent; Ward Brooks, Jr., 5106 Mayfield Drive, a certified public accountant; Joseph Melton, 9712 Old Third Street, a grocer; and Claude O. Roberts, Valley Station, who is employed by the fire department of a distillery. Cook is a real estate dealer.

The other candidate is Garland Kirby, Lane Jefferson-Taylor, who is with the Jefferson County Volunteer Fire Department, said this week in reminding residents of the area that Fire Prevention Week will be observed next week.

None of the other three board members do not expire until 1960. County School Board members are elected by districts.

A total of nine candidates are seeking three seats on the Louisville Board of Education, which is the second four-year term in District 5. Two of the three includes the area between Shelbyville and Bardstown Roads. He is unopposed.

The other candidate is Garland Kirby, Lane Jefferson-Taylor, who is with the Jefferson County Volunteer Fire Department, said this week in reminding residents of the area that Fire Prevention Week will be observed next week.

Some pre-elections were listed as follows:

Employ a competent electrical to repair or extend wiring when it is necessary.

Buy electrical appliances and cords listed by "Underwriters Laboratories."

Don't string wires under rugs, over hooks, or any exposed parts where they may be subject to wear or mechanical damage.

Wear damage may make them dangerous.

New appliances such as air conditioners, draw heavy current. Consult an electrician — you may need new wiring.

— TAP. BALLET CLASSES

Registration for tap dance and ballet classes will be held at the court last Wednesday, September 4, at the Jeffersonson School for children in the first and second grades. The first of a series of 10 classes will follow between 10 and 11. The class is sponsored by the Jeffersonson Recreation Association.

Oklahoma Man Is Named Clerk Of Fiscal Court

New clerk of Jefferson Fiscal Court, Mrs. Elizabeth F. Dearing, succeeds the late Charles F. Dearing in the $4,000 a year position.

Lamont's appointment was ratified at a meeting of the court last Wednesday. He was appointed to fill the unexpired term of Dearing's four-year term which runs until 1960.

Lamont has been a deputy circuit court clerk assigned to Criminal Court of Appeals. Prior to that he was a deputy sheriff. He is a Democrat, married and is the father of three sons and three daughters. In his youth, he was a semi-professional baseball player.

Richard Van House, superintendent of schools, said the position has been made but that Lamont is being acquired in "anticipation of providing relief for over crowding at Wagener during the fall semester."

RESPECT FOR COURT; JUSTICE FOR ALL

When we were a school boy (long time since) we spoke in all but subdued tones in any comment concerning the U.S. Supreme Court, so great was the respect with which we were taught to regard that august body. That tribunal represented the last word in interpretation of the law of the land.

Boy, we've come a fair piece!

And along the way things have changed. Infilitrated influences, such as politics and so-called "liberalism," have obviously left their mark on the Court as on other of American institutions.

Criticism from all sides today has overtaken the Supreme Court; that last, lofty bulwark of justice; that unprejudiced body whose great responsibility is to interpret the basic law upon which this nation was founded, and upon which its fate rests in no small degree.

From whence comes, and for why, all the criticism which is being directed at the high tribunal? Why such disrepute? And who is to blame? If there was ever a man or group of men who were supposed to be free from faulty thinking or unjust decisions it was thought to be the members of the Supreme Court. No, that group could not be considered "Gothic" in any sense of the word. They are right, since they merely spell out its meaning in matters of litigation. They give back to the people the sentiments expressed by the people, as written in the Constitution, through its application in the cause of justice among the people. Surely, through their mere implementing of the Constitution they can do no wrong. The Court's function is plainly defined.

Have the members of the Court adhered to the prescribed function? If so, all the criticism is directed to them must be unmerited. Still they stand (those critics) in an imposing array. Can there be no right thinking among these concurring challengers of the honorable justices and their unusual decisions of recent years? These dissenters have grown to be legion from individuals to groups of distinguished lawmakers, and including assembled bodies such as American Legion, justices of state courts of appeal, members of the American Bar Association, governors of states in every direction.

This country of ours was founded to be governed by law—laws democratically enacted, and fairly interpreted and applied by the judiciary, with due regard for the will of the people. The up to date of states whose sovereign rights were taken into account in the Union were formed. And unless the rights of the several states are respected in applying the national code, serious difficulties are to be expected in the enforcement process. This, of course, calls for appreciation and understanding, not to mention patience, on the part of those in high judicial authority. Common sense works for common consent.

From all over the country there come today cries for a measure of appeasement to the China Communists in the interest of world peace and harmony, which might be temporary or lasting. Cannot we have at least as much give and take among the different elements of our own people, and with more hope of satisfactory adjustment?

This country's Civil War experience was thought to have been concluded with a better understanding between the North and the South. Recognizing that mistakes had been made on both sides of the awful conflict, citizens of all the states buried the hatchet and mutually agreed to work toward a better understanding of the differences in human relationships of sectional areas. Has today's generation forgotten those varying conditions and that experience, its costs and its lesson in the value of mutual understanding and appreciation? We hope not.

TO THE GIRLS — GOOD ADVICE

The first Miss America, Margaret Gorman, who was sixteen when she came to Atlantic City in 1921 and was named the first Miss America, says that beauty isn't everything. She offers some sterling advice to the young of today, in our opinion.

She is now Mrs. Victor Cahill, and is reported to seldom think of her fame as the first of the thirty-one Miss Americas. Says she to the new Miss America:

"You will be Miss America for only one short year, and then you will just be you all the rest of the life. Being Miss America doesn't mean you will be setting the world on fire. Don't expect too much. And remember that being Miss America is very important for Miss America, but most other persons don't really care."

This is solid stuff for our beauty-contest conscious country, it seems at times as if the United States has gone crazy on the object of beauty contests, and that the pretty young things of today cannot help but get the notion that if they know how to strut their stuff and look pretty in the first place) a few wrinkles, a few lines, and a few grey hairs.

This to the ordinary girl, is a first major calamity of life, as for as appearances are concerned. And today's Miss America, or any other national beauty contest winner who has the banquet circuit and the high degree of commercialism and materialism she is inevitably subjected to, is bound to be unbalanced by all the hubbubollo which follows her "victory," which really means very little in the long run.

THE FARMERS SPEAK UP

A few months ago I happened to tune in on a radio program being broadcast from a southern city. The speaker was a U.S. Senator reporting from Washington, D.C. on conditions via taped records. The Senator was lambasting Secretary of Agriculture Ezra Taf Tabin and calling for high rigid price supports for farm products as a means of agricultural protection for the nation. Undoubtedly many political officeholders feel that such a stand is what the farmers want from their leaders and representatives in Congress.

However, Farm and Ranch, published in Nashville, Tennessee, one of the top agricultural publications going to southern farmers, has just taken a poll of farmers' sentiment on national issues and the results may astonish many politicians. Nearly 90% of the more than 2,000 farmers participating in the poll, favor a supply-and-demand system as soon as possible. And more than half of the farmers think Secretary Benson is doing a good job.

Return To Supply-And-Demand

Here are the results of the questions on the poll pertaining directly to the supply-and-demand.

Cooperatives should be taxed, nationally and locally, on the same basis as corporations. YES 72.2%, NO 27.8%.

Postage rates should be raised (including rates on magazines) to enable the Post Office Department to break even. YES 63.2%, NO 36.8%.

Government should guarantee export prices at 90 to 100 percent of parity, and control production on major crops. YES 26.4%, NO 73.1%.

Farming should be a free supply-and-demand system as soon as possible, with minimum government control. YES 67.5%, NO 12.5%.

Pubic utility should be developed and operated by private companies instead of the government. YES 85%, NO 15%.

States should run their own schools without interference from federal government, and federal government should not interfere in education. YES 80.8%, NO 19.1%.

Most FAVOR Benson

Federal aid to states means extravagance, high taxes, waste and federal control. It should be stopped. YES 75.3%.

Secretary Benson is doing a good job. It is time to start him on the right road.

It is time to start him on the right road.

Today I read a very serious article on the great danger facing our nation because little boys are armed to the teeth and are playing around in imitation of their television heroes. No more than an hour later an elderly man, with no children, made the same comment that had been made by the writer of the article.

"What is the world coming to, when even the little boys are playing with guns and going to war?"

Today I read a very serious article on the great danger facing our nation because little boys are armed to the teeth and are playing around in imitation of their television heroes. No more than an hour later an elderly man, with no children, made the same comment that had been made by the writer of the article.

"What is the world coming to, when even the little boys are playing with guns and going to war?"

Government should guarantee export prices at 90 to 100 percent of parity, and control production on major crops. YES 26.4%, NO 73.1%.

Farming should be a free supply-and-demand system as soon as possible, with minimum government control. YES 67.5%, NO 12.5%.

Pubic utility should be developed and operated by private companies instead of the government. YES 85%, NO 15%.

States should run their own schools without interference from federal government, and federal government should not interfere in education. YES 80.8%, NO 19.1%.

Most FAVOR Benson

Federal aid to states means extravagance, high taxes, waste and federal control. It should be stopped. YES 75.3%.

New Features Added For '58 Carnival At Middletown School

The annual carnival and pep rally sponsored by the Middletown Elementary School will be held Saturday, October 11, with many new attractions this year.

The carnival will begin at 4:30 p.m. at the time of the firemen's parade, which will end at the school. The P-T.A. will sponsor a float in the parade.

Mrs. C. B. Mitchell, ways and means chairman, said a turkey dinner will be served beginning at 5 p.m. in the school dining room.

There will be 18 different attractions at the carnival. New this year is a ride called "The Whirlwind" which will be a ferris wheel, ponies, games including ring toss, a country store, white elephant booth and a fish pond. For the children, there will be two booths selling balloons and grab bags.

Another new feature this year is the king and queen contest. Details will be announced next week.

Candidates for queen are Beverly Pitts, Nancy Haney and Paty Gail Harrod, from grades one, Teresa Walker, Candy Bright and Linda Barnes, from grades two, Paula Young, Paty Andrus and Ann Guthrie, grades three; Brenda da Schoenbacher, Susan Magner and Martha Eades, grades four; Lynn Clark, Mary Rung and Donna Wall, grades five; Carolyn Waldman, Frances Swans and Martha Robertson, grades six. Candidates for king are Ricky Day, Charles Tinsley, Charles Tinsley, grades one; Shad Casay, Jerry Miller and Frankie Crowley, grades two; Mike Turpin, Chuck Crowley and Scotty Lockhart, grades three; Jimmy Thelton and Alan Clark, grades four; David Roman, Mike Keeley and Jon Simon, grades five, and Terry Holloway, Kenny Keeling and John Keeley, grades six.

BUTLER

The Teacher Association of Butler High School will hold its fifth annual fall festival Saturday, September 27, at the home of the school on Crum's Lane, 10 a.m. to 4 p.m. Hot or ham dinner, booths, variety show and band concert. Serving begins at 4 p.m.

BATES

James H. Bates and P-T.A. meeting were held Tuesday night. The program included a devotion by the moral and spiritual leader, Mrs. Laura Mae Maratay.

Group singing was lead by Mrs. Mary Alice Robinson and Mrs. Jeanne L. Ladd. The program included a devotion by the moral and spiritual leader, Mrs. Laura Mae Maratay.

Budget report for the coming year was read by Mrs. Little Morrissey. She also announced that the fall festival will be held October 12, beginning with ham and tuna supper at 5 p.m.

Members of the executive board were introduced by Mrs. E. T. Dittlo.

The count was won by Mrs. Mildred Welch's room.

Mrs. Katherine Garrett, chairman of parent education and preschool, announced a discussion group will meet at the school September 24, from 9 until 10 a.m.

Mrs. Althea Layman, principal, gave a discussion, "This Is Your School." During her discussion she introduced 23 classroom teachers.

A skit was prepared and directed by Mrs. Mary Alice Robinson.

A get acquainted panel by each teacher was enjoyed by all.

Refreshments were served by the teachers.

The faculty of the school was honored with a buffet supper, Friday, September 12.

P-T.A. officers, including chairman, Mrs. Howard Simpson, publicity chairman.

STONESTREET

A planning group, headed by Mrs. Peyton Ray, president of the Jefferson County Council P-T.A., met Tuesday, September 16, at the Stonestreet P-T.A. home.

Plans were made for each type of recreation, according to Mrs. Doris Ewen, P-T.A. publicity chairman.

James Crosby, principal of Middletown High School, told the P-T.A. last week that "children must want to learn" to progress well in school.

He said the children must have their teachers to motivate them to learn. He urged parents to instill in children the attitude that "teacher is right."

Crosby said the school policies were approved.

The October meeting will be held at 7:30 p.m. Tuesday, September 30, at the school. Mrs. Ray will preside at that meeting.

Fern Creek Club To Give Autumn Fashion Show And Card Party

Fashions for "fall days and easy ways" will be shown at the fourth annual card party of the Fern Creek Community Center, Tuesday, September 30, at the Fern Creek Community Center, beginning at 8 p.m.

Mrs. LeFoy Reed, chairman, will be in charge of the refreshments, still will furnish clothing to be worn by members and their children.

A period of cards or games will be followed by a fashion show of clothing, "a gossip corner" for those who do not wish to play cards, checkers or other games.

The following month will be Mrs. Jean Adams, Mrs. J. Daniel, Mrs. Carl Hardisty, Mrs. Paul Koehler, Mrs. W. L. Daniel, Mrs. Harley Roman, Mrs. Donald T. Tamm, Mrs. Ralph Tamm, The children and Jimmy Daniel, Lorena Gilbert, Rosemary Hauss and Adele Hoke, Mrs. Henry Bruce will be the commentator.

The October meeting will be held at 7:30 p.m. Tuesday, October 29, at the school. Mrs. Ray will preside at that meeting.

OLD TIMER

"Old Timer" is the name of the old man in the cartoon. He is a good old man, with a kind heart, and some beautifully arranged pieces which were eagerly annexed by those members who had brought coiners to be used in the game. We hope you will be inspired to put to use what we have been taught, but enjoyed the opportunity of knowing Mrs. Baker.

At a meeting in June, Mrs. Baker, a member of the Middletown Club, taught us to make new sports coats from men's sweat shirts. One of these is causing great interest now in West Germany. "So we are doubly grateful for Middletown's invitation.

Recreation was the highlight of the day as Mrs. Beverly produced a hula hoop and all members were invited to try it. Some of the women had even tried it before, you can imagine the hilarious results.

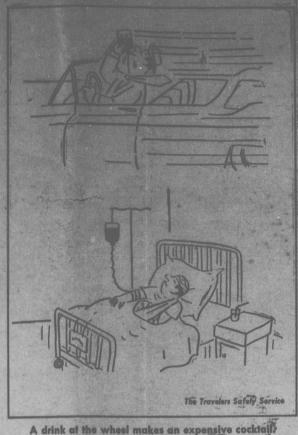

The October meeting place is still uncertain as Mrs. Milton Flatt, chairman, has not yet decided to be, has an accident injured husband at home. The place will be announced later.

JEFFERSONTOWN

ROUTT

The Jefferson Homemakers Club held its September meeting in the home of Mrs. Leonard Cummier, Chenoweth Run Road, with Mrs. J. E. Skaggs as co-hostess. There were 20 members and one visitor, Mrs. M. L. Ladd.

Mrs. Walter Kidd gave the report of the nominating committee. Officers elected are Mrs. Charles Riehman, president; Mrs. William R. Grouley, Jr., vice president; Mrs. M. L. Ladd, secretary; Mrs. E. H. Roberts and Mrs. Sam Spalding were re-elected treasurer and treasurer, respectively.

The club accepted the recommendations and so the slate of leaders for next year began to think of the tasks ahead.

Our landscape leader, Mrs. Archibald, gave a report on several arrangements in the home. She brought several arrangements already prepared and made some more for her demonstration. Flowers will be used in the home we should strive to have how to fix them more attractively.

The hostess served a very delicious lunch along with Mrs. Hattie Davis co-hostess. — Mrs. William Blankenbaker, publicity chairman.

The club also voted to help with the community auction October 11 at the Community Center.

EARWOOD

Mrs. Walter Beverly was chosen to the Eastwood Homemakers at the September meeting, as Mrs. M. L. Ladd, president.

At this was the first of the fall meetings, officers were elected and chairman of programs for the coming year were appointed.

Mrs. W. B. Gandy, who had been chosen to the board last year, was unanimously elected to fill the president's chair.

Mrs. Louis Oesterle was elected to the board, Mrs. Beverly was chosen to serve as chairman.

The following women were asked by the new president to serve as chairman: Mrs. Mildred Clegg, Mrs. M. L. Ladd, Mrs. Paul Kelley, craft; Mrs. Mrs. O'Bryan, foods; Mrs. Julius Rosenthal, citizenship and devotions; Mrs. Lillard, landscape, and Mrs. Pope, publicity.

Our lesson for the day being flower arrangement, Mrs. Edith Baker, of the Middletown Club, taught us to make new clothing. This will be a great help to those who have no money to buy new clothes.

FOR REFLECTION
...with JAMES C. RODGERS
President, Spiritual Motivation

DULL ROUTINE OR HIGH ROUTINE?

Reading Sir James Bisset's recent book, "Sail Ho!" in a recent issue of The Wall Street Journal, Edwin A. Roberts, Jr., says:

"Sir James creates in his reader a feeling of awe for the hard-working, life before the mast must have been infinitely more fun than daily routine, circa 1958."

If so, readers no one to blame but themselves. In the Wall Street Journal in which appeared Roberts' statement was a news story which started out, "U. S. scientists believe that 'what's new' is a yearning for the 'old'." We may well be at the 'threshold' of a major breakthrough in their efforts to harness the fusion power of the H-bomb for peaceful energy."

So we are doubly grateful for Middletown's invitation.

And what could be more enthralling than the effort to comprehend the physical and spiritual meaning of the life and energy being released in microcosm and macrocosm of today's growing edge discoveries in astronomy, physics, chemistry, biology, psychology and religion?

HELMANS-FREDRICK

The Jefferson County Municipal Conference, composed of the majority of incorporated towns in Jefferson County, held its first of a series of reports from heads of county government agencies.

The first speaker was Mrs. Dorothy Wehrley, director of the County Welfare Department, who explained its operation and told of problems that could be solved by working with Louisville's department.

Conference members paid tribute to Mrs. J. Noland who is leaving the organization and who is retiring as mayor of St. Matthews September 30.

St. Margaret Mary Church, Lyndon, daughter of Mrs. Noland, Lee Halligan, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert E. Halligan, and Mr. and Mrs. Charles David Frederick, son of Mr. and Mrs. William Joseph Frederick. The vows will be October 18.

OFFICERS ELECTED

James Cooper, from Creek, has been elected chairman of the Louisville Engineer and Scientific Societies Council, a group representing 25 engineering and technical organizations.

He was succeeded by Robert L. Spalding, who was elected chairman of the Louisville Engineering Society.

Mr. and Mrs. E. H. Roberts and Dr. Sam Spalding were re-elected secretary and treasurer, respectively.
